SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. NEW YORK. September 2.-It was a holiday among baseball men in these parts, just as it was among other folk, and the New York and Pittsburg clubs played two games of hall on the new Polo grounds. There were 1.739 spectators at the morning game and 9,131 at the afternoon game. The first game was a hard bitting contest, in which the New Yorks had the best of it. The champions batted Morris almost at will and made things lively. O'Day pitched for the New Yorks and did remarkable work. The visitors started in on O'Day as though they were going to bat him out of the box, but they seemed to lose sight of the ball after the first inning, and it was not until the windup of the game that they were able to do anything with his curves. Even then they did not hit him to any great extent. The fielding especially by Wood and Richardson was very sharp. Grounders were stopped by the last named players that at other times would

STARTED THE RUN GETTING. The New Yorks started in with the run getting, and tallied two singles right off the reel. Gore got a base on balls, and Miller muffed a long fly by Tiernan. Ewing filled the bases by to first. Hanlon pulled down a fly from Con-nor's bat that seemed to be safe, and Ned made a double play by throwing Ewing out at first, Gore scoring on the play. Ward scored Tiernan with a two-base drive to left field, and Richardson retired the side on a grounder to White. The visitors did just as well as the New Yorks in their half of the inning in point of runs. Hanlon hit for three bases against the right center field fence, and scored on Rowe's sacrifice fly to Gore. Beckley hit to Connor and was out. Carroll hit to center for two bases, and Fields brought him home with a double to left field. White hit toward third for one base. Fields tried to move up on the play, but went out at third. This left the score

The second inning was a blank although both sides got men on the bases. Tier nan opened the third inning by sending several fouls over the grand stand and finished by driving a line hit under the right field's seat FOR A HOME BUN.

Ewing followed with a single to center and Connor moved him up a base on a sacrifice from White to first. Ward flied to Morris and Richardson to Kuchne. There was nothing done in the way of run getting after this unt the New Yorks sixth inning, when they score one run. Connor and Ward made single hits and Richardson sacrificed at first from Kuehne, O'Rourke hit to White and while the latter was trying to put out Ward, Connor scored. Whitney got a base on balls but was left on O'Day's out from Rowe to first.

In the seventh Gore flied to Fields. Tiernan made a double to right, and Ewing put the ball over Miller's head for three bases, Tiernan scoring. Connor hit to Miller, and Ewing scored. Ward fouled to Carroll. Richardson opened the eighth with a two-bagger to center and O'Rourke singled to right. A fly to Miller by Whitney allowed Richardson to score. O'Day doubled O'Rourke on a fly to Rowe. In the eighth Hanlon got a base on balls, and Rowe hit to center, moving Haulon around to third, Rowe going to second on the throw in. Richardson threw Buckley out at first, Han-lon scoring. Howe second on Ward's throwing Carroll out at first.

FIELDS MADE A DOUBLE

center and went out in trying to reach third. to center and went out in trying to reach third.

Ewing forced Gore at the plate, Tiernan going to third, from which point he scored on Morris' balk, Ewing going to second on the play. Buck stole third and came home on Connor's hit to center. Hanlon fielded the ball wildly home and Connor went around to third, where he was left on Ward's fouling out to Carroll and Richardson's fly to Miller. The visitors ended the game with two runs. White got a base on an error by Ward, Miller hit safe, but was forced at second by Kuchne. Morris sacrificed at first and White scored. Kuchne scored on a two-base hit by Hanlon. Rowe ended the game by going out at first from Richardson.

THE OTHER SLAUGHTER. The second game was a walk-over for the bome team. The Smoky City players were unable to do anything with Keefe's curves wher hits were wanted to bring in runs, while the New Yorks hit both hard and timely. Galvin had good control of the ball, but he was power less to prevent the champions from hitting the ball when hits were needed to bring in runs. Gore led in the batting for the home team with Tiernan and Richardson close behind him Brown took Ewing's place behind the bat in the second inning and caught a perfect game. Not only were there no stolen bases made off him, but no attempts were made is this direction. Keefe was at his best and mowed down the men that Iaced him in great shape. The field work of the New Yorks was of the very best. The two errors charged against them did not count for anything. The visitors, in addition to their mability to hit the ball, played loosely in the field, and to their errors are due most of the runs scored by the New Yorks. Captain Hanlon was taken ill in the third inning and was forced to give way to Sowders. The change gave the New Yorks at least one run, as Sowders misjudged the first ball hit to him and it counted for a two-base hit.

MADE A RUSH. The New Yorks opened with a rush. Gore shot a grounder at Beckley, which the latter stopped nicely, but he could not get back to the base in time to catch the runner. Tiernan sacrificed from Kuehne to first. Brown hit to White, who caught Gore between second and third, but he threw wild, enabling Gore to score and putting Brown on second. Congot a base on balls and Ward filed to Fields. Richardson bunted. There were three men on Richardson bunted. There were three men on bases now, with O'Rourke at the bat. Jim popped up a foul or two, and then Galvin came near laying the lawyer low by hitting him in the back with the hall. The play forced Brown home. Whitney brought both Connor and Richardson home with a two-base drive down the left field line. O'Rourke was slow in certified to third. home with a two-base drive down the left field line. O'Rourke was slow in getting to third, and was thrown out by Fields. The visitors made a good dash to cut down the lead, but failed to score. Hanlon put darning needles on the ball and sont it at Richardson. Danny handled the ball all right, but he did not have time to catch the runner. Rowe hit to left for two bases and Hanlon tried to score on the hit, but went out, O'Hourke to Whitney and Brown. There was A GREAT KICK over the decision, the visitors claiming that the ball was blocked, but the decision went, Beckley was hit by the ball, and Powers then Beckley was hit by the ball, and Powers then tried to even things up by not calling strikes on Carroll. It made no difference, for Carroll hit a fly which Richardson got. He made a double play on Rowe at second and ended the loning without a run for the Smoky City lads. The visitors third showed a fine chance to score, but they did not. Galvin struck out, Hanlon made a short infield hit, Ward fumbled Rowe's grounder, and Richardson treated Beckley's grounder in the same way. With three on bases Carroll filed to Richardson and Fleids to Gore. At this point Hanlon complained of being sick, and gave way to Sowders. Blanks fell to the share of both sides from this point up to the seventh inning, when the New Yorks went in and batted out a run. Gore began it with a two-baser and wound up a base on Tierrian's fly to Sowders. Brown singled to right and Gore scored.

Connor forced Brown at second. Ward hit to left for a base and Richardson hit to Beekley, retiring the side. The home team had no trouble in scoring again in the eighth. Four runs were the result of the champions working this inning. The visitors' half of the ninth proved fruitless. Score:

BOSTON WINS BOTH. The Hoosiers Play Well, But Their Hosts

Lay Them Out. Boston, September 2.-The Bostons both games to-day, the first one easily, but the last one was a fierce and close contest. In the morning game the Bostons took a strong lead at the outset. The visitors bunched three hits, which, with a base on balls, gave them three runs. The fielding on both sides was nearly perfection. In the afternoon Richardson put the ball over the fence for a home run, and this was the only run of the game. Boyle and Clarkson were romarkably effective. The Indiamans did not make an error of any kind. bunting the ball toward Kuehne, and beat it The fielding of Glasscock and Quinn was of the highest order. Attendance-Morning 6,002; afternoon, 12,901. CHICAGO PLAYS GREAT BALL.

But Brenks Even with the Phillies on Two Fine Games.

PHILADELPHIA, September 2.—Philadelphia and Chicago began a fight for third place today, and both clubs were on their mettle. Chicago won the first game in the tenth inning on Ryan's triple to left and Hallman's excusable miss of Duffy's grounder. The Phillies captured the second game by making their hits productive. The visitors played an errorless fielding game, not even a battery error being charged them. Attendance, 14,581.

WASHINGTON, September 2.—Poor fielding and light batting characterized the Washington-Cleveland game to-day, the latter winnin on damaging errors and a few timely hits. Beatin pitched a splendid game, and on the whole was well supported, while Keefe was wild, and in the eighth inning, by a base on balls, forced in a run. The contest was rather tiresome, but Wilmot's backing and Stricker's fielding tended to relieve the monotony. The

The visitors outbatted and outfielded their opponents, and ran the bases much better until the last inning, when hits by Burns and Smith, two bases on balls, O'Brien's sacrifice and a wild throw by Carpen-ter gave Brooklyn five unearned runs. Phillips had a very sore arm from pitching a hard game on Saturday, and was also knocked out of the box at Braddock this morning, but as Newel did not show up he pluckily said he would go in the box and do the best he could, although his arm was so sore that he could hardly raise it, and he pitched a winning game, as 7 of the 10 hits were made after chances to retire the side had been given. The best feature of the game was the playing of Gray on second for the Athletics, McKeesport was very unlucky in having a great many men left on bases, and they did a great amount of bad base running. Come Before the Chamber of Commerce at Its First Meeting.

MARITIME MATTERS BOOMED.

And the International American Congress Invited to Visit Us.

IF IT WANTS TO GET GOOD POINTERS

On the Things Manufactured Here That Are Most Essential Elsewhere.

The Chamber of Commerce takes a hand n several big maritime and international projects. It takes the position of aiding the world to know what Pittsburg can do in making ship and armor plate not only, but in building the most of a navy, as well as supplying South America with almost everything she needs most.

The first meeting of the Chamber of Com merce Directors for the season of 1889 90 was held yesterday afternoon. There was a full attendance. In the absence of Captain John F. Dravo, Chairman of the Committee on Rivers and Harbors, Colonel F. P. Roberts read their report. In answer to an invitation to the Chamber of Commerce to send delegates to the Cincinnati Convention on the Improvement of Western Waterways, September 4 and 5, the committee recommended and President Schmertz apointed Captain John F. Dravo and Captain John A. Wood delegates.

George H. Anderson, Chairman of the Committee on Legislation, read the following report, which was adopted, and a copy ordered to be sent to Secretary of State James G. Blaine: Your committee, to whom was referred the communication of Secretary of State Blaine, with regard to the meeting of the International American Congress to be held in Washington October 2, * * would respectfully report as follows:

First-That the objects of the Congress which are in the interest of peace and pros-perity, uniformity of customs, duties, money standards, and other measures to promote a close union and enlarged business relations between the Governments of the American continent, are deserving of highest commendation BETTER COME HERE.

Second-We recommend, in order to carry out the purposes outlined above, that foreign members of the proposed congress should be encouraged to visit the various parts of this country, and be shown, as much as possible, the extent, the business and manufacturing resources of the United States; and also that a special invitation be extended from this Chamber to the members to visit Pittsburg and its surroundings. surroundings.
Third—That a copy of this report be forwarded to the Honorable Secretary of State in answer to his communication.
A communication was received from the convention which meets in Minneapolis, Minn., to-day and to-morrow, to frame a new bankrupt law. It was referred to George H. Anderson, with power to telegraph an answer.

A communication from St. Louis, in regard to holding the World's Fair in that city, was referred to the Committee on Promotion of the World's Fair.

John W. Ryckman, President and General Manager of the International Maritime Exposition to be held at Boston, Mass., from November 4, 1889, to January 1, 1890, requested by communication, that, as this is the first occasion in the history of expositions when a systematic and concentrated effort had been made to promote the shipping interests of the United States, the Chamber of Commerce co-operate, by appointing a committee of citizens who will undertake to prepare and forward a collection of exhibits from Pittsburg works, factories, warehouses, river interests, etc. This was referred to George A. Kelly, who said:

You are all aware of the fact that our ship-ping interests are rapidly growing worse, in a way to make Americans blush. There has been so much agitation on this subject during the past five years, we have now arrived at the conclusion that our people should be protected on the seas if they cannot be respected. Presi-dent Harrison has started the ball rolling by bringing it out in his inaugural address, and I believe that this exposition will have believe that this exposition will have

- VERY GREAT INFLUENCE on this question. I will be very much sur prised if the coming Congress does not take some action on this subject. You are aware how apathetic our city is in all such matters, forgetting that it is our duty, every American citizen, to do all he can for this matter. I would like very much that Pittsburg should take action on this subject.

He then offered the following resolution, which was adopted: When was adopted:

Whereas, The Industrial Maritime Exchange is to be held in the city of Boston beginning November 4, 1889, and to continue until January 4, 1890, and the object of said exhibition being to bring together examples of the production in over 200 distinct industries of this country associated with the construction and sailing of ships, and to contrast in friendly visalry. American and foreign machinery, apprically. and sailing of ships, and to contrast in friendly rivalry American and foreign machinery, appliances, models of war, merchant vessels, etc., and believing that a comparison of these exhibits will show that the skill and materials at the command of our Atlantic and Pacific ship yards will demonstrate that with proper encouragement by our Government we are prepared to fill every harbor in our 15,000 miles of sea coast with the staunchest and fleetest ships that may sail any ocean.

sea coast with the staunchest and fleetest ships that may sail any ocean.

Whereas, The necessity for the revival of American shipping interests, that we may establish active commerce with the world, is now recognized in every State and Territory in our country, and it is our desire to aid in this resto-ration that has inspired the promotion of the ration that massingured the promotion of the forthcoming exposition.

Resolved, That we recommend our manufacturers and others to contribute as freely as possible to said exposition such of their products as enter into the construction and navigation of seagoing vessels, and to in all and any ways contribute to its success. Before the adoption of the above Colonel Roberts said Pittsburg had more than a general interest in this subject. She will soon be able to supply all the iron these ships need; besides, this is a port of entry.

President Schmertz said, "Our people are slow to act in matters of this kind. We will look to the press to agitate this matter Nothing else would do as much good.' A concise memorial of the connection of the Chamber of Commerce with the Johns-town flood, which was prepared by Secre-tary S. L. McHenry, was ordered to be spread upon the minutes.
